Purpose

Shipping is one of the safest means of transport, yet thousands of accidents still occur each year. Our Life Saving equipment are there as a last resort, and is the safety net we rely on in an emergency situation.

How can we be certain that the equipment is in good working order when we really need it?

To ensure this, SOLAS states clear requirements regarding inspection and maintenance of life saving appliances.

In general, to fulfil the requirements, one must conduct the weekly and monthly maintenance and inspections, and it must be done by persons with proper knowledge to do so.

Further inspections are carried out by authorized personnel on an annual basis.

Last but not least, correct operation and use of the equipment is crucial in a moment of emergency.

We in TTS believe that detailed knowledge and confidence in our life saving equipment are of the highest importance.

Our goal is to make you safe.
